National Professional Qualification for Headship (NPQH) Qualification Specification

About NPQH

The National Professional Qualification for Headship (NPQH) is accredited by the Department for Education (DfE). The qualification is delivered by the Outstanding Leaders Partnership (OLP), a collaborative partnership of schools, teaching school alliances and multi-academy trusts, managed and supported by Best Practice Network.

NPQH focuses on the key skills needed for headship and meets the highest standards for leadership development anywhere in the world.

Entry requirements

NPQH is for those who are, or are aspiring to become, a Headteacher or head of school with responsibility for leading a school. This includes those with cross-school responsibilities such as a National Leader of Education (NLE).

In order to be accepted onto NPQH, prospective candidates must first pass our gateway assessment process. Gateway assessment has been designed to ensure the readiness and suitability of applicants to undertake the qualification and embark upon headship.

Assessment

Task 1

Candidates must lead a change programme at whole-school level lasting at least two terms and aiming to improve pupil progress and attainment. Candidates must present the plan to the Governing Board prior to implementation and gather their feedback. A written account of the project covering the design, implementation and evaluation must then be submitted for assessment.

Task 2

Candidates are required to research a placement school's current and/or projected resource and capability challenges and design an action plan to address these. The placement must be undertaken in a contrasting school to their home school (for example, by performance, pupil profile, geography etc.) and last at least nine working days. These can be spread across a number of weeks at the candidate's discretion. Candidates must present the plan to their placement school's governing board and gather their feedback. A written account of the project must then be submitted for assessment.

Project scripts and supporting evidence are assessed in accordance with a mark scheme provided by the DfE and are subject to national moderation.

In order to achieve NPQH candidates must:

- complete 3 online courses and associated core tasks
- attend practice based events
- pass final assessment within 18 months of starting the qualification

What's next?

Candidates who successfully complete NPQH may choose to continue their professional development through the completion of a master's degree in educational leadership or by continuing onto the National Professional Qualification for Executive Leadership (NPQEL). Professionally, NPQH graduates may choose to apply for a Headship or system leadership roles such as National Leader of Education (NLE) or Teaching School Director.

Masters accreditation

The qualification has been developed in collaboration with Chester University to be delivered at Masters Level 7. Candidates successful in achieving the qualification have the opportunity to accrue credits towards an MA in Educational Leadership with Chester University.

Course intakes

We have two intakes per year; one in the autumn term and one in the spring term. For further information and for application deadlines please see our website www.outstandingleaders.org/qualifications/npqh

Distance learning

Candidates for whom time away from school or access to local delivery is not available have the opportunity to complete the qualification via a distance learning model. With distance learning, the five event days are each delivered flexibly over the course of two weeks through a combination of online briefings and candidate activity.

Delivery locations

To minimise travel, our training groups are located according to the geography of the candidates that register. Candidates will be allocated to their most geographically convenient group for the five training events and will be provided the opportunity to change group, or join our distance learning model, if their allocated group does not suit.

Our face-to-face groups take place across the country and we strive to ensure all candidates have access to local delivery.
